
Title: Buccaneers' Den Pact

Author: Khay'Thall / Unknown

When I first picked up the quill and began to write I thought I was mad to do so. After being unjustly exiled from the isle of Buccaneer's Den by the tyrant Greypawn I found myself in a situation of absolute despair. At first I did not know what I would do next, then thoughts of all those I have let down flooded my mind. I was told I would be killed if I opposed the Moonglow Alliance. I bit my lip and watched as my very own creation, the Buccaneer's Den pact was taken by Greypawn and made into what is now the Moonglow Alliance pact. I was driven to a suicidal state because I had nothing left. No family, no home, no influence in the world.
I knew that Sosaria was moving towards a terrible future for the Humanis Ideals would be lost if I am lost. So I stayed, no matter who listens to me now, so long as I remain there will always be a Humanist.

Within this world that we inhabit there exist various institutions and forms of government that claim they hold the answer to your prayers. What prayers are these one might ask? The simple truth is people want

security in their life, they want equality and advancement. Now taking a close look at two of the supposed major forces of influence in our world I will expose to you, the reader, that in reality said forces only live to advance their own goals and the goals of the institution leaders.
The institutions that will be criticised are the Moonglow Town Council and The Heralds of the Awakening.
Once I thought that Moonglow was a promising partner. It is the strongest island on the realm, has a vast store of knowledge and represents Honesty, a virtue I find myself close to. After the mayor approached me and we formed an alliance the true face of the MTC was shown. Like starving dogs on their neighbours they turned and accused it's allies of treachery, hand in hand the MTC
and members of YEW
fabricated a plot to make the Human Nation a victim of lies, and it was their lies that had wounded and unmade us.
For the heart of the matter is that under the guise of a herald of honesty one can walk unmolested in the shadows and spread deceit for who will blame the known figurehead of Honesty?
Or perhaps a better
question, who will believe a man most find "evil" for his views? So thus I was not listened to, cast aside while my enemies prayed I would go away.
But this paper is not about ravings and finger pointing, I am giving facts here.

Let us begin with the root of deceit.

The following is an excerpt from the Buccaneer's Den Pact.

d) The competent leadership of Moonglow and Buccaneer's Den realise that each power has it's own goals and methods. As such both parties agree to never work to undermine the actions of the other.

f) The Sosarian Human Nation does not recognise the lands controlled by members of the non-human population.

Actions taken against such peoples will not be considered a breach of article d no matter of the relation said peoples hold with Moonglow.

The Sosarian Human Nation was blamed for breaking a pact with Moonglow for acting against its ally Findar (A nation run by Dwarves).

This was perfectly legal in regards to article (f).

So why did the sage of Justice Thrawn say that the SHN broke the pact?

The answer is simple, Greypawn having ties to the HoA used his friendship with the sage of Justice to suppress the growing nation of Buccaneer's Den.

Also the Moonglow Town Council is against slavery, or so they say as it's pact with Findar had a clause which allowed the cursed dwarves to possess and sell slaves. Moonglow sides with evil.